Effectively working through COVID-19: Employee Toolkit

Top tips and resources to help you develop the mindset and behaviours to navigate through uncertainty, maintain high performance and develop new skills for the future

Links within this toolkit take you to sites maintained by third parties who are solely responsible for their content. AstraZeneca provides this toolkit as a service to website visitors. AstraZeneca is not responsible for the privacy policy of any third party websites. We encourage you to read the privacy policy of every website you visit.
We are all experiencing unprecedented challenges to personal and working conditions in our own unique way. This toolkit contains practical resources aimed at maintaining your physical and emotional wellbeing. You will find articles and videos packed with tips on areas such as working from home, dealing with anxiety, building resilience and virtual collaboration.
Click on the four-step process below to help you maintain your wellbeing, focus and productivity in times of crisis…

1️⃣ Prepare
   Get the basics right first
   Take the time to set yourself up to be as effective as possible. That includes your mindset, environment and wellbeing. Time spent getting things right now will ensure that the new habits being formed are as positive as possible.

2️⃣ Connect
   Seek support and support others
   In times of uncertainty and concern, we all have a role to play in keeping connections alive and being a source of mutual support. How you engage with people within and outside of your team during these challenging times will be moments that matter.

3️⃣ Perform
   Re-focus, revitalise, re-prioritise
   To navigate the speed and scale of change in such uncertain times requires an agile approach. Continually evaluate your personal effectiveness and experiment with new ways of working. Ensure you are clear on current objectives and the right priorities to add value.

4️⃣ Thrive
   Learn and grow to shape a bright future
   Aim to combine positivity with realism. Be prepared, rational and confident. There is disruption now but there will also be recovery. How we perform and manage ourselves in a time of crisis can present new skills, behaviours and opportunities to be successful in the ‘new normal’ of the future.
Key topics

As and when you need to access key topics, you can use the quick links below for top tips and key resources:

Mindset
- It all starts with you
- Resilience & positivity
- Looking after your physical wellbeing
- Looking after your mental wellbeing
- Building empathy
- Agile mindset: test and learn

Knowledge
- Get all the information you need
- Technology
- Working from home
- Communicating through COVID-19
- Prepare for the unexpected

Skills
- Build your capability to work through the crisis
- Dealing with change
- Building trust and productive relationships
- Virtual peer to peer coaching
- Virtual collaboration
- Developing yourself

Ongoing development
- Looking up and out
- Knowledge & resources
- Expert insights
- Peer to peer learning
1 Prepare: Get the basics right first

Top Tips

1 Make a commitment to maintaining your physical and mental wellbeing.

2 Reflect on times when you have been resilient, what helped you to bounce back?

3 When working from home create a space to work that is as free from distractions as possible.

4 Get up to date with the technologies that support remote working.

5 Set boundaries for yourself (Eg. establish a daily routine with consistent start times to your day, dress for work, take structured breaks away from the computer).

6 Set boundaries with others (Eg. resist distractions from colleagues and at home).

7 Make use of your ‘usual commuting time’ for development. (Eg. read, exercise or listen to a podcast).

8 Set realistic goals each day and make them visible - write them down and tick them off.

9 Be prepared – have everything you need for the day within reach.

Key Resources

- How do I need to think differently about my work to work effectively from home?
- 7 time management mistakes
- Working from home podcast
- Staying focused when you’re working from home

Further Resources

- How to be your best self in times of crisis
- Making time to reflect

Self-evaluation

- How productive are you?
2 Connect: Seek support and support others

Top Tips

1. Increase connection through multiple touchpoints. Don’t over-rely on email - pick up the phone and have regular meetings.
2. Go on video during meetings.
3. Say a quick virtual ‘hello’ to everyone on your team every morning.
4. Let people know what you are working on and share progress and milestones.
5. Practice empathy and kindness, know that everyone is working with a different set of challenges.
6. Schedule virtual coffee breaks with colleagues.
7. Share and celebrate personal and team successes.
8. Be part of the solution: Reach out and offer help and support within and across your team.

Key Resources

- Staying connected
- Using digital tools effectively
- Relating to others fluidbook

Further Resources

- Connected, but alone?
- How co-workers are staying connected while working from home
- Five ways to create stronger connections
Top Tips

1. Plan your work around the resources that are available to you
2. Remember your purpose – set personal priorities aligned to your team’s purpose
3. Ensure you are clear on the new objectives for yourself and the team
4. Be realistic, and don’t expect to maintain 100% productivity
5. Clarify the new rules of engagement with colleagues in your team, how and when you will communicate with each other
6. If in doubt, over-communicate rather than under-communicate
7. Master virtual technologies
8. Think about how you need to change the way that you work to meet new demands
9. Maintain a balance between your work and home/family commitments
10. Identify what you have learned - developing yourself will be useful in future crises

Key Resources

- Finding a work/life balance
- Motivating yourself: practical tools and strategies
- Managing conflicting priorities
- Reorganising priorities in changing times

Further Resources

- 20 tips on how to prioritise work and meet deadlines
- Wellbeing and balance

Self-evaluation

- How good is your decision making?
Top Tips

1. Resilience in the face of challenges. Build a vision of a positive future and plan how you can contribute.

2. Reassess your habits and approach to work in order to return to full productivity as quickly as possible.

3. Set new personal development goals – how can you maximise and utilise the new skills that you have developed?

4. Reflect and share your experience and learnings widely across your networks.

5. Reform through learning. The crisis will provide an opportunity to learn from a wide range of social innovations and experiments, such as working from home, virtual collaboration and distance learning. Understand the successes and failures of such experiments, look for the changes that if permanently adopted could improve ways of working long term.

Key Resources

- A growth mindset
- Beyond Coronavirus: The path to the next normal
- What’s next in your career?
- Building business agility fluidbook

Further Resources

- What makes us feel good about our work?

Self-evaluation

- Are you a positive or negative thinker?
It all starts with you

- Resilience & positivity
- Looking after your physical wellbeing
- Looking after your mental wellbeing
- Building empathy
- Agile mindset: test and learn
Top Tips

1. Look after your physical wellbeing as this helps manage stress.
2. Practice thought awareness. Don’t let negative thoughts derail your efforts.
3. Learn from your challenges and setbacks, practice an agile approach.
4. Choose your response: we all experience bad days in times of crisis. We have a choice in how we respond.
5. Maintain a balanced perspective, focus on the positives as well as the challenges.
6. Set SMART, effective personal goals.
7. Build your self-confidence: Be confident that you will succeed despite setbacks.
8. Develop strong relationships with your colleagues. Treating people with compassion and empathy is very important in times of crisis.
9. Focus on being flexible. Things change, carefully-made plans may need to be amended or scrapped.

Key Resources

- Positive thinking, thought awareness and rational thinking
- Building resilience fluidbook

Further Resources

- Positive psychology can improve wellbeing at work
- 21st century resilience
- Perspective is everything

Self-evaluation

- How resilient are you?
Looking after your physical wellbeing

Top Tips

Physical wellbeing and mental wellbeing are linked. Doing a little in each area is key.

Nutrition:
1. Cook healthy meals – cooking can also become a hobby or area of interest.
2. Ramp up your immune system – take vitamins, eat vitamin dense foods, get outside for vitamin D (in line with local guidance).
3. Drink water – aim for 8 glasses or 2 litres a day.

Movement:
1. Get some exercise - Eg. workouts, gardening, dancing, walking, just move your body!
2. Stand up - at least once per hour.
3. Make sure your work space is appropriate – follow ergonomic experts’ advice.

Recovery:
1. Sleep - aim to get 7-9 hours of sleep each night.
2. Take regular breaks - schedule time for lunch and breaks each day.
3. Take time-off – disconnect completely to recharge.

Key Resources

- Apps to look after your physical wellbeing
- Join Virgin Pulse Challenge
- How we take of ourselves podcast

Further Resources

- Improving your physical wellbeing at work
- Physical relaxation techniques

Self-evaluation

- Check yourself for signs of burnout
Looking after your mental wellbeing

Top Tips

Mindset:
1. Find what inspires you – music, reading, gardening, crafting, whatever gives you joy!
2. Practice gratitude – recognise one good thing that happened today
3. Practice mindfulness/meditation – and limit the amount of news you consume

Social Contact:
1. Keep in touch and connect – with friends, family, colleagues each day
2. Ask for help – reach out and ask for support, ignoring stress doesn’t make it go away
3. Help others - doing good for others makes you feel good too!

Key Resources

- Apps that look after your mental wellbeing
- The Science of Wellbeing (free class through Yale University)
- Managing your relationship with stress
- What is resilience and why is it important?

Further Resources

- Mental health in the workplace fluidbook
- Ways to stay social while in isolation
- Supporting colleagues to stay mentally healthy
Building empathy

Top Tips

1. Remember that empathy is not agreeing or disagreeing with someone - it is understanding their thoughts and feelings through connecting.

2. Get in the habit of asking more questions than you usually would.

3. Use active listening skills to really focus on what people are telling you.

4. Use the technique: repeat, paraphrase, reflect.

5. Always validate other peoples’ emotions – if they weren’t valid, they wouldn’t be experiencing them.

6. Practice empathetic acknowledgement: showing someone that you are aware of and understand their emotions, without judging, pitying or advising.

7. Avoid making assumptions or drawing your own conclusions about how people feel.

8. Share how you are feeling as well, without making it all about you.

Key Resources

- Why empathy is a critical skill
- Developing the skills to understand people
- Emotional intelligence fluidbook
- Working in an emotionally demanding role
- Go beyond active listening

Further Resources

- Compassion and the true meaning of empathy
- Habits that will increase your empathy

Self-evaluation

- How good are your listening skills?
Agile mindset: test and learn

Top Tips

1. Focus on improving how you do what you do every day
2. With support, actively seek out new experiences and challenges, with the aim or making sense of them and learning from them
3. Apply critical thinking – look for patterns, make connections
4. Look for different ways of approaching familiar problems
5. Be curious
6. Try out new approaches and experiment with new ideas
7. Look for “stretch assignments”, where the probability of success isn’t a given
8. Build resilience to acknowledge failures and capture the lessons learned from them
9. Seek out feedback and focus on how you can do things better

Key Resources

- Flexibility & agility
- Building business agility fluidbook
- What is an agile mindset?
- Flexibility in the workplace
- Innovation & creativity: 25 ideas

Further Resources

- Understanding the agile mindset
- What is the agile mindset?
- Why growth mindset matters for organisational agility
Get all the information you need

- Technology
- Working from home
- Communicating through COVID-19
- Prepare for the unexpected
Top Tips

1. Reduce additional load on your home broadband (E.g. Netflix streaming) to maximise your connection to work
2. Ensure you are still working securely when out of the office, always lock your device and keep apps and software up to date
3. Performing a ‘regular restart’ of your computer is something we all need to be doing to ensure we benefit from updates of improved performance and features, security and protection for our computers from vulnerabilities
4. Connect using VPN whenever accessing via a public WIFI network
5. Report suspicious emails / SMS / phone calls by using using your company’s IT security process
6. Use tools like Microsoft Teams to connect and collaborate with your team and colleagues
7. Remember to keep your workflow apps (HR, Finance etc) up to date with information
8. Check for company updates and stay connected through your usual IT communication channels

Key Resources

- Getting started with Microsoft Teams
- Microsoft Teams platform walkthrough
- Working remotely FAQ
- Using digital tools effectively
- Getting started with Zoom

Further Resources

- Microsoft Teams Community
- Zoom support
Top Tips

1. Maintain your usual morning routine to put yourself in the right frame of mind.
2. If possible, find a dedicated space for working. A spot with minimal distractions and comfortable seating is best. Make sure you utilise technology to work efficiently.
3. If possible, structure your day the same way you would in the office. If you devote your mornings to project work and use the afternoons for meetings, do that at home.
4. Build breaks into your work. They are key for mental wellbeing.
5. Don’t forget two of the most important factors in your productivity when transitioning to remote work - your physical wellbeing and mental wellbeing.
6. Create a virtual collaboration contract. What were your norms and how might they change now that you’re working from home?
7. Increase virtual touchpoints with colleagues and stakeholders but decrease the length of these meetings. Communicating is key.
8. Maintain the social connections you’ve built with your teammates. Use video calls for impromptu discussions whenever possible.
9. Know your goals. Along with short-term, task-related goals, make sure that you’re also clear about the wider career goals and purpose you’re striving to achieve. Keeping these in mind will motivate you to do your best work.

Key Resources
- 5 tips to balance remote working while your family is also at home
- Tips for working from home
- COVID-19 remote work toolkit
- Using digital tools effectively

Further Resources
- Virtual team building ideas
- Working from home with kids
- New to remote working?
Communicating through COVID-19

Top Tips

As the COVID-19 pandemic continues to evolve and impact the way we work and live our daily lives, the way in which we are communicating as an organisation and with each other has evolved too. Many of us are now working from home which in turn brings its own challenges and an increased reliance on using digital channels for communications. Here are some top tips to help you communicate effectively during this uncertain time:

1 Be in the know on COVID-19. Keep up to date with the latest information on COVID-19. Visit the World Health Organization website and read the local guidance from your government and organisation on a regular basis.

2 Get tech savvy quickly. With an increase in remote working, getting up to speed and confident with using technology for collaboration is key. In particular, getting to grips with tools like Microsoft Teams or Zoom will support effective virtual meetings, and tools like Workplace will help with social collaboration.

3 Be seen. Always go on video when joining virtual meetings. It will help you stay engaged and feel connected with your colleagues.

4 Be part of the digital conversation. Working remotely makes it harder to connect with colleagues. It’s therefore now even more important that you join the conversations on your company’s social collaboration platform – connect, collaborate and problem solve together.

5 Be social. As well as connecting with your colleagues on work topics, make time to meet virtually for a coffee break or end of the week social get together and have some fun!

Key Resources

- COVID-19 MindTools support pack
- 10 communication tips remote workers need to know
- COVID-19: How to work at home, the right way
- Communications fluidbook
Prepare for the unexpected

Top Tips

1 Expect the unexpected: be alert to changes in yourself and your colleagues. Increasing connection will help you recognise issues early and address things before they become overwhelming.

2 Don’t panic: your ability to stay calm is instrumental to your success in managing the unexpected. Take a deep breath and spend a moment evaluating the situation and thinking about what you need to do next. To be in the best position to remain calm make sure to actively work on your mental wellbeing.

3 Prepare solutions in advance: it is not possible to plan for every worst-case scenario, but try to have a strategy for dealing with things that are most likely to happen.

4 Use your critical thinking skills: take a systematic approach to solving both small complications and significant crises.

5 Keep a list of resources at your fingertips: when situations arise, and you need outside help to resolve them know where you can go for help.

Key Resources

- Guidance from the World Health Organization
- In stressful situations I get angry and blame others
- Problem solving and decision making

Further Resources

- Thrive animation
- Don’t let frustration get the better of you
Build your capability to work through the crisis

- Dealing with change
- Building trust and productive relationships
- Virtual peer to peer coaching
- Virtual collaboration
- Developing yourself
Dealing with change

Top Tips

1. Change is complex and can at times be very disruptive for people.

2. Build trust and connections to help deal with change more effectively.

3. Take time to understand the changes being introduced and what this means for you and the teams you work in and with.

4. Reflect on other changes you have experienced – what helped you to work through them and what did you learn?

5. Let go of what you can’t control, and focus on what you are able to influence.

6. Call out your anxiety and fear at the outset, then look for practical advice about what to do next.

7. Don’t stress out about stressing out - your reaction to stress has a greater impact on your health and success than the stress itself.

8. Focus on your values instead of your fears – remind yourself of what is really important in your life.

9. Be part of the solutions – how can you help and support your colleagues and your manager?

10. Accept the present but keep looking to the future.

Key Resources

- I feel in constant turmoil what can I do?
- Change curve animation
- Make stress your friend
- Constant change
- I feel under pressure and anxious
Top Tips

1. Remember that trust can be destroyed very quickly, and once broken is difficult to rebuild.

2. Trust builds trust; so if you want people to trust you, first show that you trust them.

3. Keep your word about the little things as well as the big things. Communication can be key in this.

4. Be consistent in what you say, what you do, and how you present yourself online.

5. Follow through on performance expectations and accountabilities.

6. Clarify any implied accountabilities to avoid misunderstanding.

7. Discuss and air differences before they start to fester and impact on productivity.

8. Show support for people, even when they make mistakes. Demonstrate empathy and understanding.

9. Be honest and fair when giving feedback.

Key Resources

- Building trust
- Building great work relationships - making work enjoyable and productive
- Psychological safety first: building trust among teams

Further Resources

- How to build (and rebuild) trust
- What we don’t understand about trust
- Building a positive culture

Self-evaluation

- How approachable are you?
Virtual peer to peer coaching

Top Tips

1. Develop peer coaching skills. This will build capacity in others
2. Establish trust and a personal connection
3. Keep your questions focused and concise
4. Allow time for thinking and reflection, don’t be tempted to fill every silence
5. Use a range of media and technology for formal and informal coaching: it is possible to coach in two minutes over instant messenger
6. Don’t dictate the medium; be empathetic and let people choose the method they prefer
7. Minimise distractions and do not multi-task during a coaching session
8. Have a clear structure and manage the time closely
9. Use ‘nudges’ to reinforce desired behaviours; for example sharing recommended articles, videos and podcasts

Key Resources

- Coaching infographic
- Push/pull continuum
- Coaching fluidbook
- I need to become better at coaching - Thrive in Five

Further Resources

- Want to get great at something? Get a coach
- The virtues of virtual coaching
- How to grow a peer coaching network

COVID-19 Employee Toolkit 2020
Virtual collaboration

Top Tips

With the need to work as virtual teams, we need to take extra care to treat one another as human beings with emotions and feelings, and to respect and celebrate diversity of thoughts/preferece.

1 Slow Down to Speed Up - take the time to set expectations, to focus, to create processes on how the team will interact, and to put the appropriate tools in place. Review by asking: Do we need some new agreements or to adjust some existing ones? Use the collaboration contract.

2 Respect time zone differences: Rotate the role of early riser on a weekly or monthly basis.

3 Put extra time and extra planning effort to host virtual meetings, ensure everyone has a voice, promote mental/emotional connection with one another. Create psychological safety by building trust and encourage team members to speak up. Use the facilitation guide.

4 Maximise opportunity to express non-verbal cues: turn on video, explicitly check-in on the sentiment of the participants. Communication is key.

5 Make people feel like they are physically together: invite people to share where they are, what do they see outside the window. Talking about physical spaces creates “togetherness”.

6 Choose from a range of collaboration technologies to keep the virtual team connected. Consider both live and asynchronous collaboration tools. Eg. keep a chat room open for team members to hang out anytime.

7 Make feedback more frequent and less formal. Set expectation with the team that it is something you all deliberately practice. Consider meetings with a celebration section on both work and personal milestones.

Key Resources

- 7 Habits to virtual collaboration
- Collaboration contract
- Making sense of the complex world together
- Stakeholder mapping
- Meeting design

Further Resources

- How to run a great virtual meeting
- How to be a virtual meeting hero
- An alternative way to approach and design how people work together

COVID-19 Employee Toolkit 2020
Developing yourself

Top Tips

1. Take time to reflect on your career aspirations.
2. Identify the skills and experiences that you need to develop to achieve your aspirations.
3. Work with your manager to define an action plan to develop your skills and experiences.
4. Make sure to include different types of activities in your development plan. Remember that learning opportunities do not come only from formal training but also from activities linked to Experience and Exposure.
5. Consider finding a mentor to help you develop and grow.
6. Feedback is more useful when delivered timely. Don’t wait until the end of the year to ask someone for feedback, make it a habit to ask your peers, manager and key stakeholders for feedback on the moment, maybe at the end of a project you have delivered.
7. Actively seek learning opportunities in everyday situations, consider an agile, test and learn approach.
8. Build a strong network.
9. Remember that it is normal for priorities and aspirations to change with time. Make sure to review your development plan periodically and adjust approach where necessary.

Key Resources

- How to get the feedback you need
- 12 ways to become a lifelong learner
- Mentoring Matters: Three essential elements of success
- 5 tips to ace your performance review

Further Resources

- Use the 70/20/10 model to think about your development
- What other development can I use?
Ongoing Development

Looking up and out

- Knowledge & resources
- Expert insights
- Peer to peer learning
Many learning consultancies offer open source learning resources providing access to information on personal development.

Many corporate education providers record live webinars and offer access for individuals to watch recordings free.

Social media can provide a great way to connect with others, share experiences and discuss learnings.

Reflection

Take time to reflect on your personal experience during this unprecedented period:

- Capture personal and pivotal learning moments to review in the future
- Ask yourself what have been key learning insights from this experience?
- What three steps are you going to take as you step into the future?

This document was originally produced for AstraZeneca employees and has been repurposed so that everyone can use and benefit from it during these challenging times. Thank you to our learning partners hemsley fraser and MindTools for generously offering their resources contained within the toolkit free to access for everyone.